

“Lake Chuzenji and Kegon Falls”

Twenty to thirty thousand years ago, lava from Mount Nantai began to flow and damped the Daiya River. As a result of the shaving, a waterfall was created.

In Tochigi Prefecture, work to fix the bedrock using anchor works to prevent the progress of the collapse of the upper part of Kegon Falls Waterfall Platform was carried out.